Study guide for HIV/AIDS test

1. Know the several types of white cells (ie. neutrophils, lymphocytes, macrophage, eosinophils…) and the 2 top common WBC’s.

2. Know the functions of the immune response against foreign substances.

3. Know what causes immunodeficiency disorders

4. Know what type of immunity a newborn receives and how they get it.

5. Know what the nurses responsibility is in caring for a patient who is having an anaphylaxis response.

6. Know what the nursing actions in caring for a child with an infection related to immunosuppression.

7. Know the pathophysiology of HIV infection.

8. Know what constitutes an AIDS diagnosis according to the CDC.

9. Know the Common opportunistic diseases associated with AIDS.

10. Know what lifestyle changes the nurse should promote to patients who are HIV + and why we teach this to them.

11. Know the high risk groups for becoming HIV +, including how health care workers may be at risk.

12. Know the most common why children contract HIV.

13. Know the patient teaching for ART.

14. Know patient teaching for preventing transmission of HIV.

15. Know what needs the nurse should consider when caring for a patient with HIV.

16. Know what ways HIV is transmitted, including the most common way.