Dear All,
At the direction of the Board, we continue to work through the many procedures that need to be updated or approved, using the CCLC Policy Service templates as guidance. These documents are legally required or advised. They have been published in the Board Policy Manual in Board Docs and here. I anticipate at least one more group sent out toward the end of June.

NVC employees are asked to review these documents and provide input. Given the many procedures to be updated, or approved for the first time, our consultation process will remain open and continue after posting, using a “Additional Review Requested” designation for new/revised procedures. These and subsequent procedures have been posted with a review deadline that extends to the end of September to allow for faculty, student and staff review and input.
