

Online Learning Provides Additional Options

Online learning, whether fully online or partially online, provides students additional options to achieve their educational goals--no matter their busy lives.

- Fully online courses
- Hybrid courses--in-person and online
- Synchronous--online instruction in scheduled meetings
- Asynchronous--posted online instruction made available to students on their time

Understanding Course Schedule Options

1. Fully online course with no scheduled meeting times.
2. Hybrid courses meet on campus on the day/time scheduled AND have course instruction online
3. Fully online course with required, scheduled meetings
4. In person classes. No online instruction.

Is Online Learning For You?

Online Learning provides a valuable option to the traditional classroom, giving you the opportunity to take classes while traveling, taking an internship, working, or enjoying a summer vacation. However, you will need to ask yourself if you are self-motivated and organized. Can you manage an online course and be comfortable with technology? If the answer is yes, Online Learning might be a good fit for you.

Technical Proficiency/Requirements

- comfortable using a computer and learning new computer skills with basic instruction
- able to navigate the Internet with a regular and reliable wifi connection
- experienced with sending and receiving e-mail/messages and working with attachments
- familiar with word processing applications, such as Word, Docs and PowerPoint

5 Steps to Becoming an NVC Student